THE SCOREBOARD

During the summer of 2019, Comcast Spectacor and ANC teamed up to install the most technologically advanced arena scoreboard in the world. The first-ever Kinetic 4K center-hung entertainment system now serves as the centerpiece for sporting events at Wells Fargo Center.

Complementing the center-hung display are two massive crown trusses designed to create a captivating experience with multi-directional movement. Never before has an arena scoreboard had the ability to extend and compress 4mm LED technology in such an adaptive manner.

When fully expanded, the Kinetic 4K system, combined with the crown trusses, features the most square feet of center-hung 4mm LED video technology in an arena that hosts both NBA and NHL games. While compressed, the configuration embodies a more traditional equilateral display that provides Wells Fargo Center with an ability to tailor-fit its presentation. All together, the Wells Fargo Center's new center-hung system features a grand total of more than 6,600 square feet of 4mm LED video technology.

Comcast Spectacor and ANC worked with leading concert innovators TAIT and Mitsubishi Electric Power Products' Diamond Vision System Division to custom design the game-changing concept that will transform Wells Fargo Center's live event experience.

PAUL HOLMGREN

SENIOR ADVISOR

Paul Holmgren took on the role of Senior Advisor on July 11, 2019. Over the course of 41 years with the Flyers, he is the only individual in the franchise's history to serve the organization as a player (1975-1984), assistant coach (1985-88), head coach (1988-92), general manager (2006-14) and president (2014-19). Holmgren also spent time as the team's director of pro scouting from 1995 to 1999 and assistant general manager from 1999 to 2006.

In addition to his four decades of service to the Flyers, Holmgren has been widely involved with USA Hockey since the 1970s and was the 2014 recipient of the Lester Patrick Trophy for his contributions to hockey in the United States.

Holmgren's journey with the Flyers began when the team drafted him from the University of Minnesota in the sixth round of the 1975 NHL Amateur Draft. He made his NHL debut on March 25, 1975 at the Spectrum vs. the New York Rangers, the first of 500 games he played for the Flyers through 1984. His Flyers totals include 138 goals and 171 assists for 309 points, as well as 1,600 penalty minutes, which are the second-most in franchise history. He helped the Flyers to the Stanley Cup Final in 1976 and was part of the club's historic 35-game undefeated streak and Stanley Cup Final appearance during the 1979-80 season.

Holmgren was traded to the Minnesota North Stars on February 23, 1984. Following his retirement as a player after the 1984-85 season, Holmgren returned to the Flyers as an assistant coach to Mike Keenan, a role he held for three seasons. He was then named head coach of the Flyers on June 1, 1988, becoming the first former Flyer to be named head coach of the team. Over four seasons as head coach, Holmgren compiled a record of 107-126-31.

Holmgren spent parts of four seasons (1992-93 through 1995-96) with the Hartford Whalers organization. He was named head coach of the Whalers on June 15, 1992 and added the general manager's duties prior to the 1993-94 season. He stepped down as head coach 17 games into the 1993-94 season to concentrate on his GM duties, but was re-appointed to the position on June 28, 1994 when Jim Rutherford was named the club's general manager. He compiled a record of 59-93-14 as Hartford's head coach.

On November 6, 1995, Holmgren re-joined the Flyers as a scout and was named the team's director of pro scouting on December 30, 1995 when Bill Barber became the head coach of the Hershey Bears. Holmgren was named the director of player personnel on August 6, 1997 and was promoted to assistant general manager on June 14, 1999, a position he held for the next seven seasons before becoming the team's interim general manager on October 22, 2006. He was named to the position on a permanent basis on November 11 of that year.

Holmgren led the franchise through a record-setting turnaround following the 2006-07 season and then guided the Flyers through one of the most successful stretches in franchise history, with five consecutive playoff appearances from 2008-12 and seven playoff series wins during that time. The run began with a return to the Eastern Conference Finals in 2008. Then in 2010, after qualifying for the playoffs on the last day of the season, the Flyers went on to dispatch New Jersey (ECQF, 4-1), Boston (ECSF, 4-3), and Montreal (ECF, 4-1) to reach the Final against the Chicago Blackhawks.

The Flyers followed up that Finals run with a 47-win season and a division title in 2010-11, and again posted a 47-win season in 2011-12 after Holmgren dramatically reshaped the team's roster during the offseason. Those two seasons marked the franchise's most wins in a two-season period since 1985-87. The Flyers were the only team in the NHL to reach the second round of the playoffs (or further) in each of the three seasons from 2009-10 to 2011-12.

Over eight seasons as general manager, Holmgren's teams posted an overall record of 307-234-73 (.559) and made six playoff appearances. He was promoted to team president on May 7, 2014 and served five seasons in the role, overseeing both the business and hockey operations of the franchise.

Internationally, Holmgren has represented the United States as a player, coach and front-office member in several capacities. During the 1973-74 season, Holmgren was a member of Team USA for the event that later became the IIHF Under-20 World Junior Championships, and he also played for Team USA in the 1981 Canada Cup. Off the ice, he most recently served as the assistant general manager for Team USA at the 2016 World Cup of Hockey, and was a member of the U.S. Men's National Team Advisory Group from 2009 to 2014. Holmgren also was the assistant general manager of the 2006 U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Team and the general manager for the 2006 U.S. National Team at the IIHF World Championships, and served as an assistant coach for Team USA at the 1998 Winter Olympic Games and at the 1996 World Cup of Hockey Tournament.

Paul and his wife, Doreen, reside in Yardley, Pennsylvania. He has four children: Jason, Kirsten, Wes, and Greta, and nine grandchildren: Hannah, Noah, Mackenzie, Luke, Nora, Cameron, Brayden, Ryan, and Emma. Holmgren was born on December 2, 1955.

BILL BARBER

SENIOR ADVISOR

Bill Barber is in his 43rd season as a member of the Flyers organization.

A native of Callander, Ontario, Barber was drafted by the Flyers in 1972 and went on to play 12 seasons for the club, winning the Stanley Cup in both 1974 and 1975. He is the franchise's all-time goal-scoring leader with 420 over 903 career games from 1972-84. Barber also ranks second in franchise history in games played and in overall points (883). Barber, Bobby Clarke and Reggie Leach formed the "LCB Line," one of the best-known lines in Flyers history, during the 1975 Cup run and throughout the latter half of the 1970s. Barber was also the captain of the Flyers during the 1981-82 and 1982-83 seasons while Clarke served as a player-assistant coach; he returned those duties to Clarke once that arrangement ended.

Upon his retirement as a player following the 1983-84 season, Barber was named head coach of the Hershey Bears, then the Flyers' American Hockey League affiliate, and then become an assistant coach of the Flyers in 1985. After three seasons in that role, Barber moved into pro scouting for the organization for the next eight seasons. When the Flyers purchased an American Hockey League franchise in 1996, Barber became the head coach of the new Philadelphia Phantoms, and led them to a Calder Cup championship in 1997.

Barber returned to the Flyers bench as an assistant coach in the summer of 2000, but was promoted to head coach on December 11, 2000. He went on to win the Jack Adams Award as the NHL Coach of the Year after leading the Flyers to a 31-16-7 record over the rest of the season. He served as the head coach through the end of the 2001-02 season.

Barber spent the next six seasons with the Tampa Bay Lightning organization as director of player personnel, winning a Stanley Cup there in 2004. He returned to the Flyers organization as a scouting consultant in 2008.

Barber is a member of both the Hockey Hall of Fame and the Flyers Hall of Fame. His No. 7 is one of only six numbers retired by the Flyers in their history.

DEAN LOMBARDI

SENIOR ADVISOR

Dean Lombardi is in his fourth season as a senior advisor in the Flyers' front office. Lombardi has over 30 years of experience as an NHL executive, most recently with the Los Angeles Kings, where he was President & General Manager from 2006-2017. Lombardi presided over the most successful stretch in the team's history, assembling a roster that won the franchise's first Stanley Cup in 2012 and repeated the feat in 2014.

Lombardi took over a Kings franchise that amassed 42 wins and 89 points in 2005-06, but had not been to the playoffs since 2002. He set to work reconstructing the roster, and his efforts began to pay off when the Kings went 46-27-9 for 101 points and returned to the Stanley Cup Playoffs. A 98-point season followed in 2010-11. After making several key additions to the roster and making an in-season coaching change, the 2011-12 Kings gathered 95 points to make the playoffs as the eighth seed in the Western Conference. They beat the Presidents' Trophy-winning Vancouver Canucks in five games in the first round, and then went on to sweep the second-ranked St. Louis Blues in the second round before dispatching the third-seeded Phoenix Coyotes in five games in the Western Conference Final. The Kings then beat the New Jersey Devils 4 games to 2 in the Stanley Cup Final.

Lombardi was an original member of the San Jose Sharks front office and spent seven seasons (1996-03) as the general manager of the club. During his tenure, San Jose reached the playoffs five times and won the Pacific Division in 2002 with a 99-point season. In between his general manager appointments, Lombardi worked for the Flyers as a pro scout covering the Western Conference from 2003-06.

Lombardi also has done extensive work with USA Hockey, including serving as general manager for the 2016 World Cup of Hockey. He was named to the USMNT advisory group in 2009.

A native of Ludlow, Massachusetts, Lombardi graduated from the University of New Haven in 1982 and Tulane Law School in 1985. He worked as a player agent before moving into management with the Minnesota North Stars in 1988.

ALAIN VIGNEAULT

HEAD COACH

Alain Vigneault was named the 21st head coach in Flyers history on April 15, 2019.

Vigneault, 59, led the Flyers to one of the NHL's best turnarounds in 2019-20. At the time of the NHL's pause of the season due to COVID-19, the Flyers had played 69 games and were 41-21-7 for 89 points, good for the sixth-best record in the league and fourth-best in the Eastern Conference. That represented an improvement from a record of 34-27-8 the Flyers had through 69 games one year earlier, an increase of seven wins and 15 standings points. When the NHL resumed with the playoffs in August, the Flyers won all three round-robin games before defeating Montreal in a seven-game First Round series, the Flyers' first playoff series win in eight years. Vigneault was the runner-up in voting for the Jack Adams Award as NHL Coach of the Year for his work in engineering the turnaround.

Vigneault enters the 2020-21 season with 1,285 games of experience as an NHL head coach over parts of 17 seasons. Prior to coming to Philadelphia, he served as the head coach of the New York Rangers for five seasons (2013-18), the Vancouver Canucks for seven seasons (2006-13) and the Montreal Canadiens for parts of four seasons (1997-2000). He also served as the head coach for Team Canada at the 2019 IIHF World Championships in Slovakia, guiding the squad to a silver medal.

In Vigneault's 16 full seasons as a head coach, eight of his teams have finished with 100 points or better. Two other teams – the 2019-20 Flyers and the 2012-13 Canucks – ended shortened seasons on pace for 105 and 100 points, respectively. Vigneault's teams have won seven division championships and have made the playoffs 12 times, advancing past the first round on nine of those occasions. He has reached the Stanley Cup Final twice, with Vancouver in 2010-11 and the Rangers in 2013-14. Three of Vigneault's teams have earned the Presidents' Trophy – Vancouver on two occasions, 2010-11 and 2011-12, and the Rangers in 2014-15. Individually, Vigneault won the Jack Adams Award as the NHL Coach of the Year in 2006-07 and has been a finalist for the award on four other occasions, in 1997-98, 2010-11, 2014-15 and last season.

Vigneault earned 539 wins over his 12 seasons in Vancouver and New York from 2006-18, which was the most of any NHL coach in that timeframe – five more than Joel Quenneville and nine ahead of Barry Trotz. He is also one of only two head coaches, along with Scotty Bowman, who have captured the Presidents' Trophy at least three times since the award was first presented in 1985-86.

Vigneault was one of the most successful head coaches in the 91 seasons the New York Rangers franchise had played through the end of the 2017-18 campaign, joining Lester Patrick and Emile Francis in a group that sits atop the 35 men that have coached the team. He was just the fourth head coach to start five consecutive seasons with the Rangers, and he finished ranked third in the franchise's history in regular season wins with 226, third in playoff wins with 31, and fourth in regular season games coached with 410. The 226 wins in his five years with the club is the highest number of wins over any five-year span in Rangers history.

Vigneault guided the Blueshirts to the playoffs in each of his first four seasons with the team, joining Patrick and Francis as the only three head coaches in Rangers history to reach the playoffs in at least four consecutive seasons. Those four teams all turned in seasons of 96 points or better, starting with the 2013-14 squad that bested the Flyers in a seven-game first-round series en route to the 2014 Stanley Cup Final. The Rangers followed that season up by winning the Presidents' Trophy in 2014-15 with 53 wins and 113 points, both franchise records, and took the Tampa Bay Lightning to a seventh game in the Eastern Conference Final. Playoff appearances also followed seasons of 101 points in 2015-16 and 102 points in 2016-17.

Vigneault's tenure in Vancouver was the most successful period in the franchise's history. He is the team's all-time leader in nearly all major coaching categories, including regular season games coached (540), wins (313), points (683) and points percentage (.632), as well as playoff games coached (68) and wins (33).

In Vigneault's debut season with Vancouver in 2006-07, the team went 49-26-7 for 105 points to win the Pacific Division after finishing fourth with 92 points a year prior, a turnaround that earned Vigneault the Jack Adams Award on his second career nomination. After missing out on a playoff spot by three points in 2008-09, Vigneault and the Canucks reeled off five consecutive division championships, all of which came with seasons of 100 points or equivalent.

The peak of that run came in 2010-11, when Vancouver went 54-19-9 for 117 points to win its first of two consecutive Presidents' Trophies. The Canucks defeated the defending champion Blackhawks in a seven-game first round series, and after defeating Nashville in the second round and San Jose in the Conference Final, came within one win of the Stanley Cup before falling to Boston in a seven-game Final series. A 51-win season followed in 2011-12, but the Canucks saw their run cut short by the eventual Stanley Cup champion Los Angeles Kings in the first round.

Vigneault's first NHL head coaching position came in Montreal, where he became the second-youngest head coach in the franchise's long history at the age of 36. Vigneault guided the Canadiens to the Eastern Conference Semifinals in 1997-98 and earned his first Jack Adams nomination in 1999-2000 after Montreal came within two points of a playoff spot despite an injury-riddled season in which 36 different skaters appeared in at least one game; only seven of those 36 players played 70 or more games that year.

Over the course of a three-year playing career as a defenseman, Vigneault appeared in 42 NHL games with St. Louis from 1981-1983 after being selected by the Blues in the eighth round (167th overall) of the 1981 NHL Entry Draft. He began his coaching career in 1986 in the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League, spending one season with the Trois-Rivieres Draveurs and five with the Hull Olympiques. In 1992-93, Vigneault joined the expansion Ottawa Senators as an assistant coach, where he spent 3 ½ seasons before returning to the QMJHL, where he coached the Beauport Harfangs through the end of the 1996-97 season. He was named the head coach of the Canadiens the following season.

After departing Montreal 20 games into the 2000-01 season, Vigneault spent two seasons back in the QMJHL as the head coach of the Prince Edward Island Rocket from 2003-05 and then one season as the head coach of the Manitoba Moose, the AHL affiliate of the Canucks, before his return to the NHL with Vancouver.

A native of Quebec City, Quebec, Vigneault has two daughters, Andreane and Janie. He was born on May 14, 1961.

Michel Therrien joined the Flyers as an assistant coach on May 5, 2019.

Therrien came to Philadelphia after most recently serving what was his second term as the head coach of the Montreal Canadiens, a position he held from June 5, 2012 until February 14, 2017. The Canadiens made the playoffs in each of Therrien's first three seasons, including division titles in 2012-13 and 2014-15 and a trip to the Conference Finals in 2013-14. Therrien had previously coached Montreal for parts of three seasons (2000-01 to 2002-03). His 542 games at the helm of the Canadiens ranks fourth in the franchise's history, as does his 271 wins with the team.

In between stops in Montreal, Therrien spent seven seasons in the Pittsburgh Penguins organization. He was hired as the head coach of the team's American Hockey League affiliate, the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins, in 2003 and led the team to Calder Cup Playoff berths in 2004 and 2005. Wilkes-Barre/Scranton was 21-1-2-1 through the first 25 games of the 2005-06 season when Therrien was promoted to the head coaching position in Pittsburgh on December 15, 2005. After missing the playoffs that season, Therrien guided the Penguins back to the postseason in 2006-07 with a 47-24-11 record and was named a finalist for the Jack Adams Award. Therrien remained with the Penguins until February 15, 2009, a run that included a trip to the 2008 Stanley Cup Final. In 814 games as an NHL head coach, Therrien has a record of 406-303-23-82.

Therrien was born on November 4, 1963 in Montreal. He has two children, Elizabeth and Charles.

MIKE YEO

ASSISTANT COACH

Mike Yeo joined the Flyers as an assistant coach on May 6, 2019.

Before coming to Philadelphia, Yeo had most recently been with the St. Louis Blues, where he served as associate coach from June 13, 2016 to February 1, 2017 and as head coach from that date until November 19, 2018. He led the Blues to a 22-8-2 record over the final 32 games of the 2016-17 regular season, finishing third in the Central Division. The Blues defeated the Minnesota Wild in five games in the first round of the 2017 Stanley Cup Playoffs before exiting in a six-game second-round series at the hands of the eventual conference champion Nashville Predators.

Yeo earned his first head coaching job when he was hired to guide the Houston Aeros, the AHL affiliate of the Minnesota Wild, on June 16, 2010. The Aeros reached the AHL's Calder Cup Finals in Yeo's one season behind the bench, after which he was named the head coach of the Wild on June 17, 2011. Yeo became the youngest head coach in the NHL at the time, at the age of 38. Yeo held the position until February 13, 2016; his teams made the playoffs in three of his four full seasons behind the Wild bench, including 98- and 100-point seasons, respectively, in 2013-14 and 2014-15. In 482 games as an NHL head coach, Yeo has a record of 246-181-55.

Yeo began his coaching career as an assistant coach with Wilkes-Barre/Scranton, the AHL affiliate of the Pittsburgh Penguins, in 1999 and continued in that position after Michel Therrien was hired as the head coach in 2003. Yeo was promoted to Pittsburgh along with Therrien on December 15, 2005 and the pair worked together until Therrien's departure in February 2009. Yeo remained in his role through the end of the 2009-10 season, winning the Stanley Cup in 2009.

BAUER
PHILADELPHIA FLYERS
TRADITION

A FLYER FOREVER

Ed Snider was an icon – an entrepreneur, a passionate philanthropist, a risk-taker for the greater good, and a true visionary in the sports and entertainment industry. Driven to succeed from an early age, Mr. Snider would bring a new team and a new industry into existence, rooting them into the fabric of the city he quickly fell in love with; one that adopted him as its own.

Mr. Snider's emergence as a leader in the Philadelphia sports market started in 1964 as vice president with the Philadelphia Eagles. Two years later, he transformed sports in the city when he mortgaged his home to establish a National Hockey League (NHL) franchise as the founder of the Philadelphia Flyers. The Flyers were quick to succeed and became the first expansion team to capture the coveted Stanley Cup when they won it in 1974 and again in 1975. The Flyers went on to become the only National Hockey League team to defeat the powerful Soviet Union national team when it toured North America in 1976. Mr. Snider became the driving force behind the Spectrum, Philadelphia's iconic arena and home to the Flyers and National Basketball Association's Philadelphia 76ers when, once again, he used his own financing to buy it out of bankruptcy in 1972.

In 1973, leveraging his knowledge of the sports and entertainment worlds, he created Spectacor as the management company to oversee the Flyers and the Spectrum. This move helped launch an entire industry – private management of sports and entertainment facilities. In 1976, Mr. Snider's vision turned to broadcasting. He created PRISM – the first 24-hour regional cable network in the nation to combine sports and movies.

Over the next 20 years, Spectacor experienced significant growth, earning national acclaim for its impact in the sports and entertainment industry. Under Mr. Snider's guidance, Spectacor developed and acquired nearly a dozen related lines of business including WIP-AM, which later became one of the first all sports radio stations. Spectacor was renamed Comcast Spectacor after Comcast Corporation acquired the Philadelphia 76ers in 1996 and then merged with Spectacor.

In the early 1990s, Mr. Snider had yet another vision for the city he loved: to create a state-of-the-art arena for the Flyers and the 76ers. He worked with city government and the business community to privately finance and build what is today called the Wells Fargo Center, which opened in 1996.

One of Mr. Snider's proudest accomplishments was the creation of the Ed Snider Youth Hockey Foundation in 2005. It provides underserved children from urban neighborhoods in Philadelphia and Camden, NJ, with the opportunity to learn to play the game of ice hockey and as a means to succeed in the game of life. The Foundation partnered with the City of Philadelphia and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 2010 to complete a $14.5 million construction project, completely refurbishing four public rinks in the city for year-round use. This project included new classrooms, learning labs, and public meeting space, as well as upgrading these rinks to NHL standards. Snider Hockey now funds and administers programming for more than 3,000 boys and girls at nine inner-city sites.

In addition to the legacy of the Ed Snider Youth Hockey Foundation, Mr. Snider also created Flyers Charities. The Flyers Wives Carnival, its signature event, is a highly attended annual event that has raised more than $28 million since its inception in 1977. These charities have impacted millions of people in the region and touched the hearts of millions of fans.

Mr. Snider's business success and philanthropy has been widely recognized. He is an Honoured Member of the Hockey Hall of Fame, inducted as a builder in 1988. In addition to serving on the NHL's Executive Committee, he was a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award for outstanding service to hockey in the United States (1980).

He also is a member of the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame (1985), the Flyers Hall of Fame (1989), the Philadelphia Jewish Sports Hall of Fame (1997), the Philadelphia Sports Hall of Fame (2005), the Greater Washington Jewish Sports Hall of Fame (2007), and the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame (2011).

The entire history of the Philadelphia Flyers may have been different without Bernie Parent. The Montreal native was not only the greatest goaltender in franchise history; he was one of the best to ever grace a National Hockey League crease.

Parent's name is synonymous with grace and excellence on the hockey rink. Just as importantly, Parent is known as a warm, compassionate human being who has never been afraid to face up to his flaws. He has celebrated the good times and weathered the tough times with uncommon grace and refreshing honesty. He emerged with his smile intact and boasts countless numbers of friends and acquaintances who feel enriched to have known him.

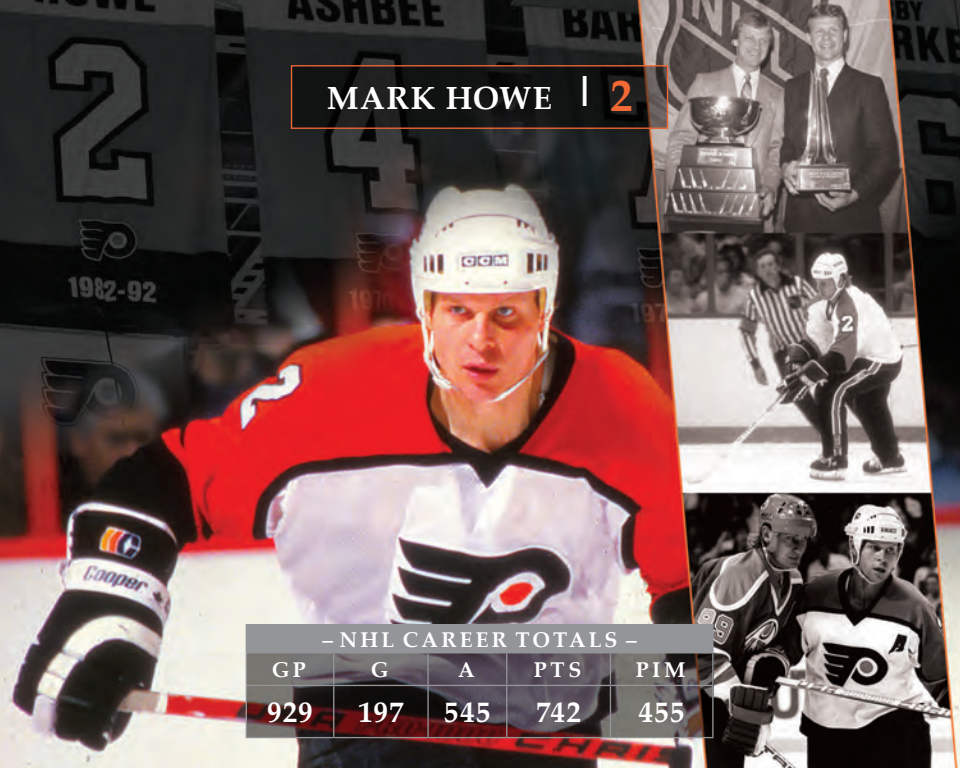

Beloved by fans and teammates alike, the Hockey Hall of Fame goaltender's gentle spirit and good humor off the ice were only surpassed by his brilliance between the pipes. Parent gave his team the confidence to believe they had a chance to win every night.

Parent's two-stint Flyers career ended with a stellar 232-141-103 record, 50 shutouts, and a 2.42 goals against average. His playoff numbers were equally impressive, with two Conn Smythe Trophies and 2.38 goals against average.

NUMBER RETIRED ON MARCH 6, 2012

The consensus best all-around defenseman in the first half-century of Flyers' franchise history, Mark Howe is a member of the Hockey Hall of Fame, the United States Hockey Hall of Fame and the Flyers Hall of Fame.

Howe's combination of supreme natural talent, outstanding work ethic and sharp mind for hockey made him a superior player both offensively and defensively. He made the transition from an All-Star forward to defenseman mid-career and not only held their own at the new position, but became one of the NHL's best blueliners of his generation.

Howe was a smooth skater, a pinpoint passer and possessed a dangerous wrist shot. At the defensive end, his uncanny anticipation and positional smarts more than made up for his lack of size and bulk.

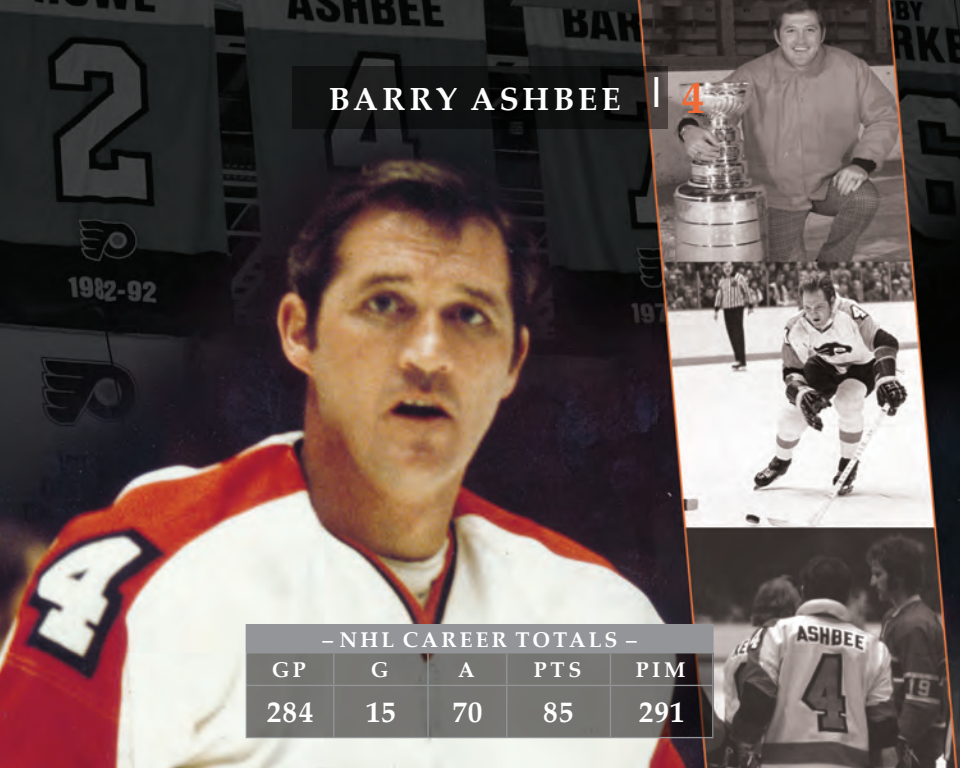

Between his WHA and NHL careers, Howe compiled 405 regular season goals and 1,246 regular season points. Howe is also the Flyers franchise leader for goals (138), assists (342), regular season points (342), playoff points (53) and career plus-minus rating (+349) among defensemen.

A three-time Norris Trophy finalist for best NHL defenseman and four-time Barry Ashbee Award winner, Howe always placed much greater emphasis on team goals than personal accomplishments. Off the ice, he epitomized class and dignity.

NUMBER RETIRED ON OCTOBER 13, 1977

An inspirational leader by stoic example, the late Barry Ashbee was an everyman made good. Among teammates, he epitomized the competitiveness of the Broad Street Bullies-era Flyers. Whatever Ashbee lacked in natural talent he made up for in hockey smarts, work ethic and hunger to win.

Ashbee possessed as much character and inner strength as anyone who has ever been a professional athlete. There was nothing phony or pretentious about the guy teammates called "Ash Can."

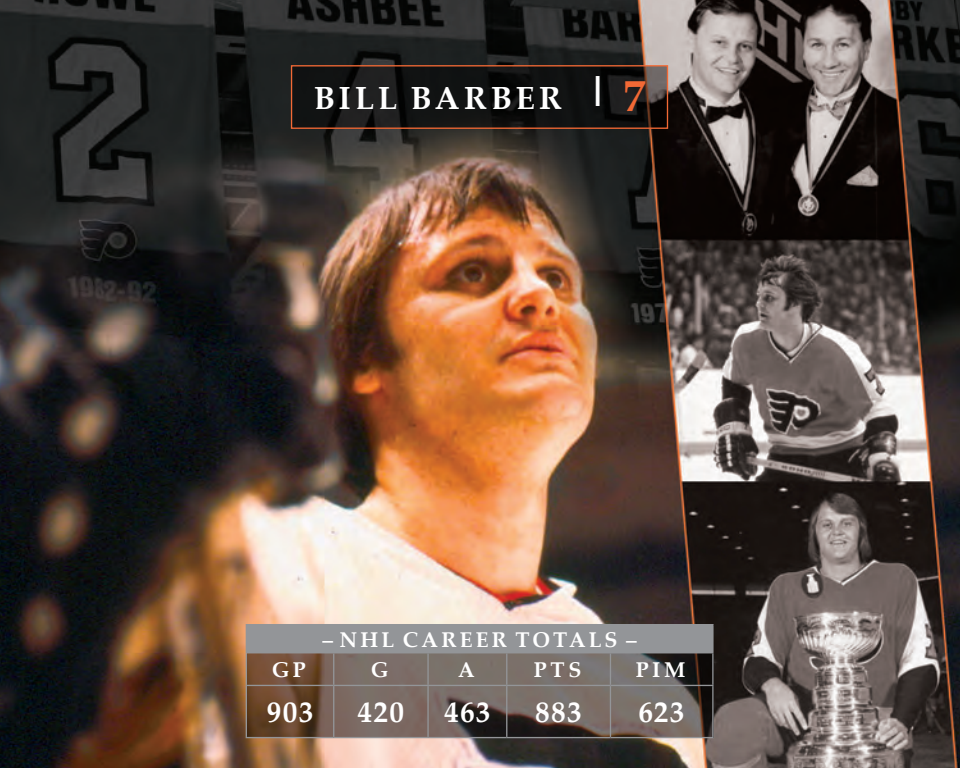

The defensive defenseman courageously and effectively played through a litany of injuries that was extensive even by hockey standards. Although his late-blooming NHL playing career was cut short by an eye injury suffered in the 1974 Stanley Cup semifinals, Ashbee left an indelible mark in shaping the Flyers' team identity; first as a player and later as an assistant coach.

By celebrating the legacy of Barry Ashbee, the Flyers also pay tribute to all the players who came before and after him, men who toiled and sacrificed just for a chance to play. His jersey was retired as much to venerate his spirt as to honor his playing abilities. No one was more dedicated to winning or persevered more tenaciously.

NUMBER RETIRED ON OCTOBER 11, 1990

An inductee in both the Hockey Hall of Fame and Flyers Hall of Fame, left winger Bill Barber was much more than just one-third of the famed LCB line with teammates Bob Clarke and Reggie Leach.

Barber spent his entire playing career with the Flyers. He played 903 regular season games (420 goals, 463 assists, 883 points, 623 penalty minutes) and 129 games in the Stanley Cup playoffs (53 goals, 55 assists, 108 points, 109 penalty minutes). Knee problems prematurely ended his career, but Barber still stands at the franchise's all-time leading goal scorer.

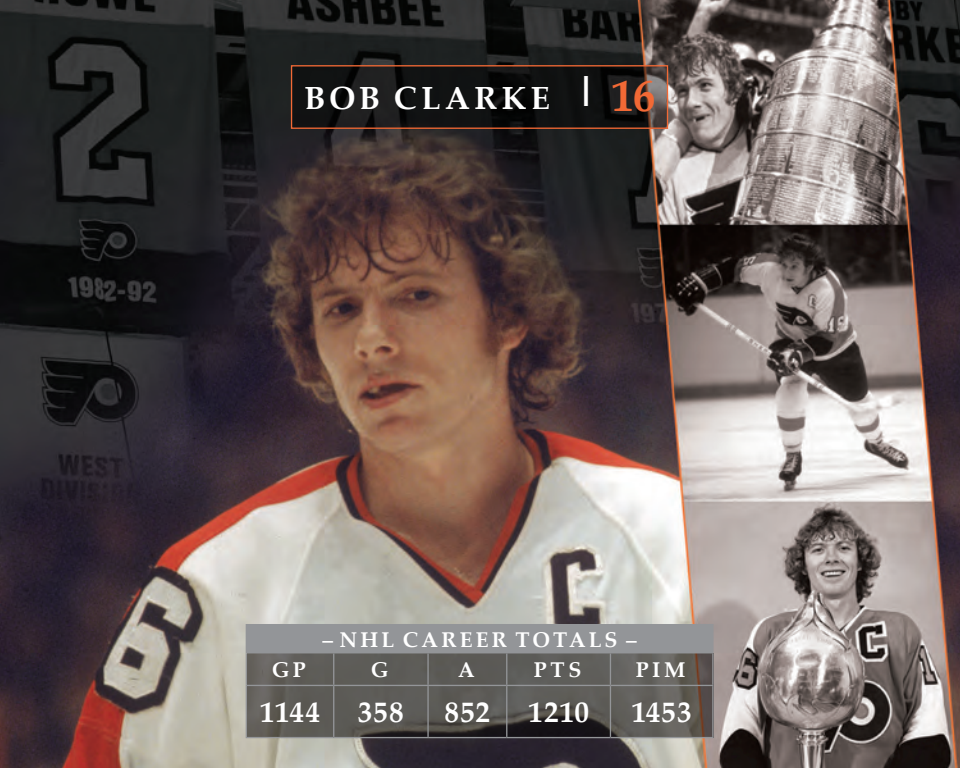

Barber was a productive offensive force almost in spite of himself. The player cared only about winning. Although there were a handful of players around the league who scored at a more prolific rate, Barber was one of the National Hockey League's top all-around wingers of his era.

Some of Barber's best games came in the biggest games of season. For example, in the 31 playoff games the Flyers played in 1980 and 1981, the intrepid Barber scored 23 goals and 37 points. In the 1980 run to the Cup Finals, Barber tied an NHL record with 3 shorthanded goals. That is the epitome of "clutch performance."

Described by coach Fred Shero as "a dream dressed in work clothes," Bob Clarke played an incalculable role in shaping the Flyers team identity and work ethic.

The Flyers' longtime captain was the ultimate team player, caring nothing for personal stats and willing to do anything for victory; whether it meant spilling his own blood or fighting for the puck as if his life depended on it. Clarke was also one of the top playmakers in NHL history, a highly effective two-way, all-situations performer and one of the best faceoff men of his era.

Known as "Bobby" to fans and "Whitey" to teammates, Clarke was as modest, unassuming and soft-spoken off the ice as he was driven to win on the ice.

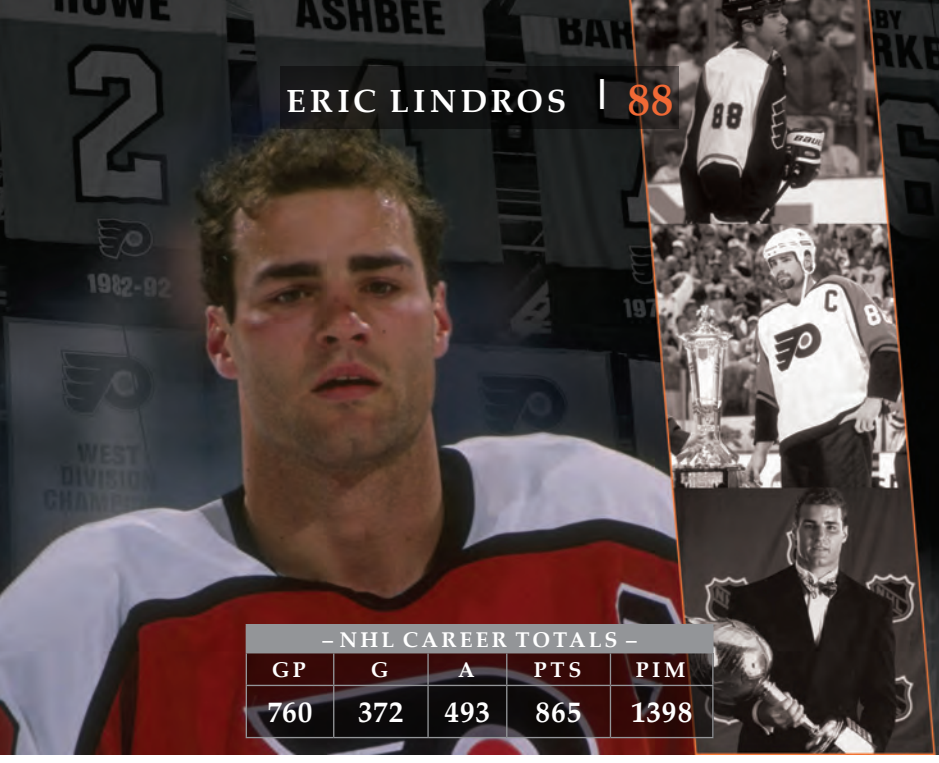

Clarke quickly made people forget that he'd been bypassed at least once in the 1969 NHL Draft by every team in the league solely because he had a form of diabetes. Simultaneously, he became a source of inspiration to diabetic aspiring athletes worldwide.

Even had Clarke not gone on to become a two-tenure Flyers general manager and to later serve the organization as senior vice president, his place would be secure in the team's pantheon of the greatest of the greats.

NUMBER RETIRED ON JANUARY 18, 2018

His acquisition from the Quebec Nordiques in the summer of 1992 shook the hockey world, and from there, Eric Lindros went on to become the most prolific scorer in Flyers history. Although his career totals don't top the team lists, his 1.36 points per game over his 486-game Flyers career is unparalleled by any other player ever to wear the Orange and Black.

Lindros made his NHL debut on October 6, 1992 in the season opener against Pittsburgh, scoring a goal in a 3-3 tie. It was the first of his 41 goals that season, a franchise record for goals scored by a rookie that still stands.

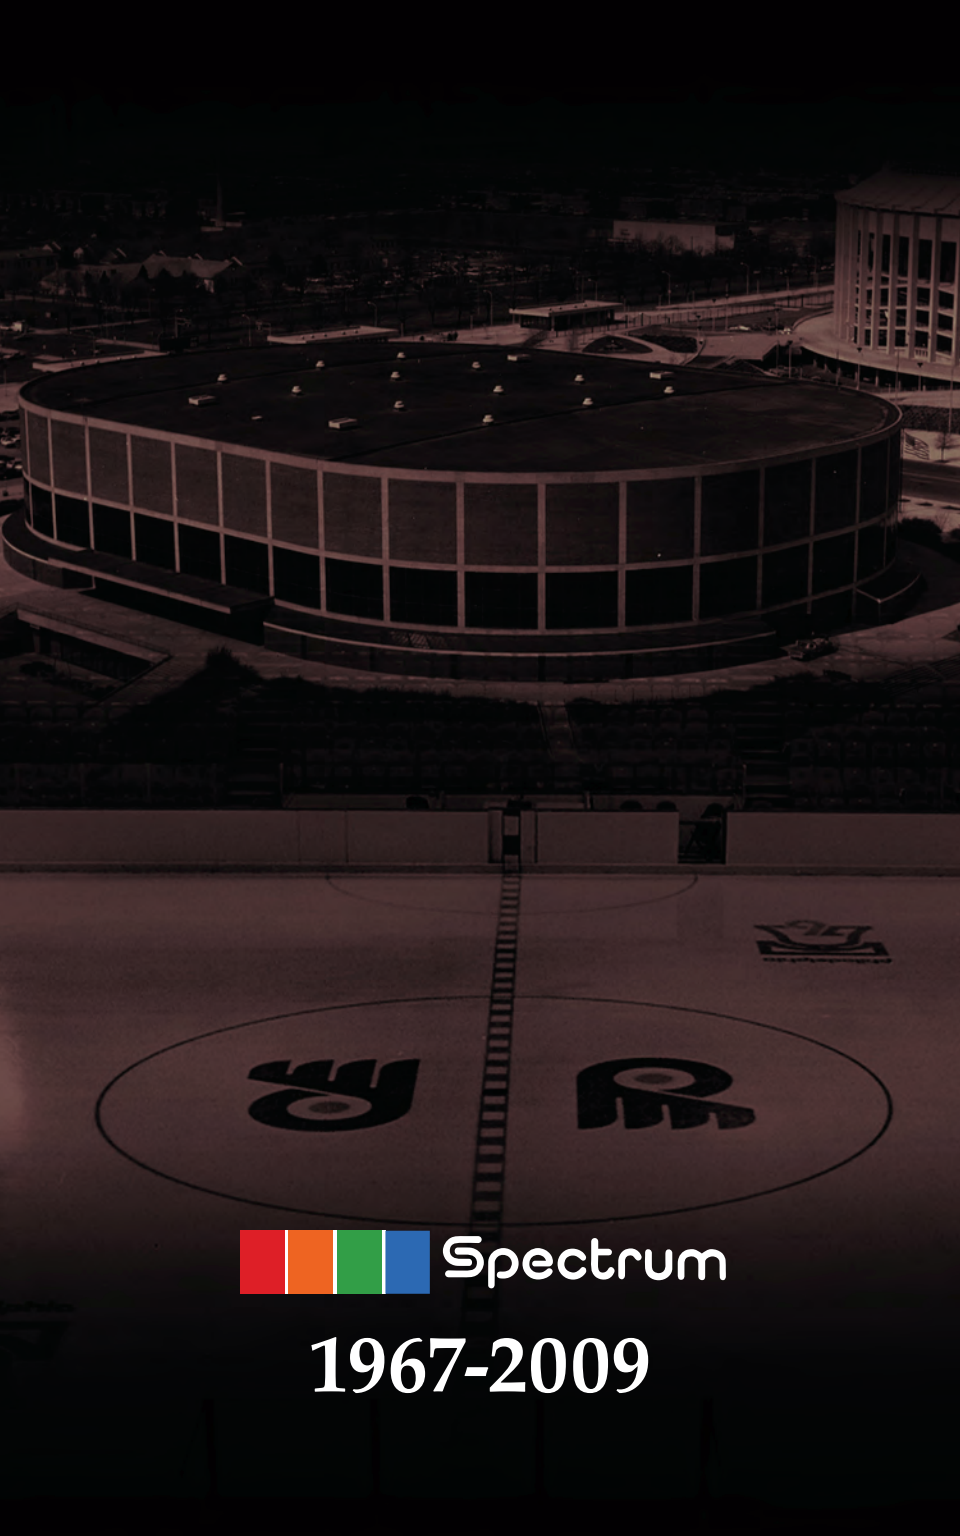

Lindros was named the 11th captain in Flyers history on September 6, 1994, and at the age of 21 became the youngest player in franchise history to hold the role. He recorded a 70-point season (29 G, 41 A) in 46 games during the shortened season of 1994-95, which tied for the league lead and earned him the Hart Trophy as the league's Most Valuable Player. Lindros joined Bobby Clarke as the only two Flyers ever to win the award.

The following season, Lindros posted a career-high 115 points. It ranks as the fourth-highest single-season total in team history behind only Mark Recchi (123 pts, 1992-93) and Clarke (119 pts, 1975-76 and 116 pts, 1974-75), and was the last 100-point season by a Flyer for 22 years. Lindros went on to post well above a point-per-game average in each of the next four seasons, never scoring fewer than 27 goals.

Lindros appeared in 486 games for the Flyers over eight seasons, rising to fifth on the club's all-time scoring list with 290 goals and 369 assists for 659 points.

SPECTRUM HISTORY

When the National Hockey League granted a conditional expansion franchise on February 9, 1966 to the team that became known as the Philadelphia Flyers, one of the key conditions was the construction and completion of a new arena in time for the start of the 1967-68 NHL season.

On June 1, 1966, a public groundbreaking ceremony took place on the site at Broad Street and Pattison Avenue where the arena that came to be called the Spectrum would stand. The building hosted its first event on September 30, 1967.

"This building was just an idea 16 months ago," Flyers co-founder Ed Snider said at the time of the arena's opening. "We got it done in record time."

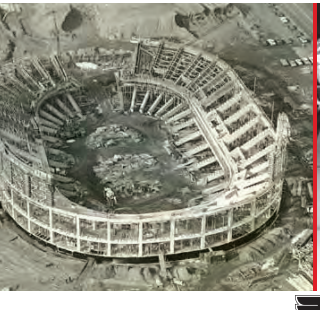

Over the years, the Spectrum was the home of the NHL's Flyers (1967-68 to 1995-96), the NBA's Philadelphia 76ers (1967-68 to 1995-96), and the American Hockey League's Philadelphia Phantoms (1996-97 to 2008-09). During its life, the building also hosted notable events in college basketball, boxing, indoor soccer, indoor lacrosse, big-name concerts, circuses, the Ice Capades, monthly professional wrestling cards, tractor pulls, and professional bull riding, among others.

The arena's name was conceived by Lou Scheinfeld, a former newspaper writer hired by Mr. Snider as vice president of business operations. The name was an acronym of sorts intended to reflect the wide array of events the facility would host. The SP stood for "sports." The E was for "entertainment." The C was for "circuses." The T was for "theatricals", R was for "recreation."

What about the UM on the end? Scheinfeld often quipped that it stood for, "um, what a nice building."

The arena closed for good on November 1, 2009. Demolition was completed in May 2011. The next year, the Xfinity Live! complex opened on the north edge of the site across the parking lot from the Wells Fargo Center.

NOTES:

- The NHL officially credits teams with a team GF or GA for shootout wins or losses. On these pages, the shootout wins and losses have been separated from actual goals scored during games. Adding the two categories provides the official NHL totals.
- The Flyers have had seven games reach a shootout after a scoreless regulation and overtime. They are 3-4 in those games. The three wins have been placed in the shutout win column and the four losses have been placed in the shutout against column.

Eric Desjardins and Behn Wilson are the only Flyers defensemen ever to attempt a penalty shot... Ilkka Sinisalo became only the third player in NHL history to score his first goal on a penalty shot. The others were Ralph Bowman of the St. Louis Eagles, when in 1934-35 he recorded the first-ever successful penalty shot in the NHL, and Phil Hoene of the Los Angeles Kings in 1973-74... With his goal vs. Washington on April 15, 2008, Michael Richards' became only the second player in NHL history to record their first career NHL playoff goal on a penalty shot (Minnesota's Wayne Connolly in 1968).

NOTES:
Since the advent of the shootout in 2005-06, the Flyers have had seven games reach the shootout with a 0-0 score. A goaltender gets credit for a shutout in those circumstances regardless of the shootout result. They are noted above by SOW and SOL designations. The Flyers are 3-4 in those games.

Active Players In Bold

* On 2/10/18, Brian Elliott was injured in the second shootout round vs. ARI and was replaced by Michael Neuvirth. Elliott was credited for a shootout appearance but did not record a decision; it is reflected in Elliott's totals but not in the team totals. Neuvirth made five consecutive saves and became the first NHL goaltender to win when entering a shootout in relief.
